Hi Hana Luxvita team,

I wanted to follow up because I am still missing a finalized floral design and an updated wedding-day timeline. I know several details are still being coordinated with the vendors, but I would appreciate one clear update on what remains outstanding and when you expect each item to be completed.

In particular, I am looking for:
- the finalized floral design and reception layout;
- the current vendor arrival and setup times; and
- an updated wedding-day timeline showing the major transitions.

I am not trying to rush decisions that still depend on the vendors. I just want to make sure the outstanding planning items are being tracked and that I know what I need to review or approve.

Please let me know what is still pending and when I should expect the next updated timeline.

Thank you,
Sophia
