Hi Sophia,

Thank you for flagging the differences you noticed in the preliminary floral proposal.

We reviewed the proposal with Bloom & Sage and want to clarify that it was a working design proposal rather than the final approved floral specification.

The current proposal reflects the florist's preliminary availability and pricing. The florist confirmed that the ceremony arch and reception arrangements can be revised to incorporate additional white and blush garden roses. The final design will be confirmed after we receive your selections.

We also reviewed your July 22 reception-layout comments. Those comments were received and have been added to the planning file. The layout remains marked as pending because we are still confirming the final vendor timing.

We can arrange a planning call to review the floral proposal with you and Bloom & Sage. Your existing package covers Hana Luxvita's planning and coordination work; we are not proposing an additional Hana Luxvita fee for that coordination.

Please send us your preferred floral revisions by July 31 so that we can ask the florist to finalize the design and pricing.

Warmly,
The Hana Luxvita Weddings Team
